Imtrek Corporation has been doing business in Northern California (Sacramento) since 1982. Its original incorporation was under the name of Image Technical Service, Inc. In 1982, the technology of "imaging" was more focused on microfilm and film related solutions. In 1998, the board changed the direction of the company from an analog imaging solution to an "Information Management" provider. Along with a new direction, the corporate name adopted was Imtrek Corporation.

Imtrek is a solution provider of document conversion to CD's or electronic medium, allowing organizations to convert microfilm images and documents to a more efficient, electronic archival and retrieval system. We are able to convert large volumes of back-filed items to this type of digital media, index the information and provide the data onto a CD, complete with a built in viewer. We also provide enterprise software that combines the technologies of Document Imaging, COLD (Computer Output to Laser Disc), ERM (Enterprise Report Management), Document Management, and Workflow into a single web-enabled application.

 Beyond our imaging capabilities, the company maintains a complete in-house copy center for our customer's paper reprographic needs. Imtrek employs over twenty-six people ranging from Management, Sales and Marketing, Programmers and Systems Analysts, Scanning Specialists and Preparers. All equipment is state of the art hardware and software, from our network infrastructure to our copy equipment.

LibertyNET, by Liberty Information Management Systems

LibertyNET™

Whether you are looking to store or file 100 or 100,000 pieces of paper daily - LibertyNET is the right system for you. It allows you to scan or import electronic documents, index and store them for retrieval - ensuring you get the document you need, when you need it, wherever you are. You can be assured in the knowledge that LibertyNET provides unsurpassed levels of scalability, flexibility and redundancy. For example, LibertyNET redundantly stores index information, ensuring database integrity in the event of a lost file server index.

All of these features are encompassed within the same seamlessly integrated solution, LibertyNET. Your LibertyNET solution can be easily customized using LibertyNET's unique tool, the LibertyNET Application Builder (LAB).

This tool allows your LibertyNET solution to be implemented in days rather than months, allowing you to reap its rewards and focus on doing what you do best – your job.

LibertyDM™

LibertyNET's document management component allows you to share and collaborate on document creation. Popular features including check-in/ check-out and revision control ensure you get to the most current revision of the document. And, like all components of the LibertyNET solution, LibertyDM is scalable, flexible and webenabled.

LibertyTaskFLO™

Automating the flow of your critical business documents can be every bit as important as storing and indexing them. LibertyTaskFLO allows you to route and distribute documents in an automated or ad-hoc fashion. LibertyTaskFLO can automate more than the simple routing of documents from person-to-person or point-to-point. For example, LibertyTaskFLO enables LibertyNET to automatically perform decision-making actions - such as when to archive, delete or move a document. You could even use LibertyTaskFLO to automate the management of retention schedules or to bundle and deliver documents to the next logical step in a workflow process. And, like all components of the LibertyNET solution, LibertyTaskFLO is flexible and scalable.

LibertyWEB™

LibertyWEB functions as a complete web server, allowing you access to documents via the World Wide Web using any commercial browser - no add-ons are required. All documents maintained by the LibertyNET system can be immediately available on the World Wide Web. LibertyWEB can be used by organizations for Intranet, Internet and Extranet applications. Full configurability allows LibertyWEB to provide the solution to a wide range of applications.
